

Celebrate Asian American Pacific Islander Heritage Month

With

PIPPA PARK®

“I just felt like me:
a little awkward,
a little too enthusiastic,
a little uncool,
but 100% Pippa Park.”

This May, learn about the history and experiences of the AAPI community and recognize the contributions Asian Americans have made to our culture. One way to explore AAPI history, traditions, and lived experiences is to read books featuring Asian American characters, such as Erin Yun's Pippa Park series.

Visit PippaPark.com
@PippaParkOfficial

FABLED FILMS PRESS

Get Kids to Read AAPI Characters!

Meet

PIPPA PARK®

Name: Pippa Park
Nickname: Pips & Gangaji
Age: 12
Birthday: April 14th
Favorite Color: Red
Favorite Food: Kimchi-jjigae & Walnut Cakes
Favorite Animal: Lion
Hobbies: Basketball, TV & Cooking
Describe Yourself: Sporty, Ambitious & Funny

Watch Pippa Park Come to Life on YouTube

Meet Pippa Park as she juggles friendships, peer pressure, basketball, crushes, and family while trying to stay true to herself in this charming and relatable chapter book about the drama that is middle school. (Ages 9-12)

Visit PippaPark.com
@PippaParkOfficial
FABLED FILMS PRESS